

MICRO-CULTURES OF GENDER CONFERENCE PROGRAMME

Registration, coffee - 10.00am - 11.00am

Student Culture Centre, University of Opole Campus, Katowicka 95.

Opening Address - 11.00am - 11.15am

Session I - 11.15am - 1.00pm (moderator: Oksana Smolnikova)

Sándor Kovács (University of Miskolc, Hungary)

"Nontraditional Professional Gender Roles: The Birth/Beginning of the Participation in Politics of Women in Hungary"

Marie Pospisilova (Charles University in Prague, Czech Republic)

"Cultural Repertoires of the Division of Labour Market and Family Responsibilities between Slovak Entrepreneurial Couples and Their Gendered Nature"

Sándor Fekete (University of Miskolc, Hungary)

"The Historical Examples of the Stereotypes from the Beginning to the <Blonde Bimbo>"

Michał Wanke (University of Opole, Poland)

"Measuring Economic Violence in the Household Relations"

Arikan Münevver, (Mersin University, Turkey)

"Critical Analysis of the Construction of the Women Image in Early Republic Period of Turkey"

Coffee break - 1.00pm – 1.30pm

Keynote Lecture by Professor Anna Odrowąż-Coates - 1:30pm - 3.00pm

"A Retrospective on Field Research in Saudi Arabia"

Anna Odrowąż-Coates, is currently employed as a Professor at the Social Pedagogy Department, at the Faculty of Education, Maria Grzegorzewska University in Warsaw, she is also a Doctor of Political Science and MA in Sociology.

Main scientific activities included independent field research in Italy (2002-2004), UK (2004-2008) and Saudi Arabia (2010-2012). Her research work is focused on education, women and children issues. Main areas of expertise refer to social inequality: gender, ethnicity, religion and the reproduction of social systems in a lens of social and critical pedagogy.

Tea break - 3.00pm - 3.15pm

MICRO-CULTURES OF GENDER CONFERENCE PROGRAMME

Student Culture Centre, University of Opole Campus, Katowicka 95.

Session II - 3.15pm - 5.00pm (moderator: Patrycja Wons)

Zdeňka Kalnická (Ostrava University, Czech Republic)

"Gender and Surrealism: the Case of Remedios Varo"

Weronika Urban (University of Warsaw, Poland)

"Find Yourself in the Regime of Everyday Life. Daily Interactions with a Person with Ambiguous Sexual Expression"

Borys Cymbrowski (University of Opole, Poland)

"Being Carrie Meeber: Literature, Sociology and Gender in Turn-of-the-Century Chicago"

Katarzyna Molek-Kozakowska (University of Opole, Poland)

"Semiotics and Rhetoric of Gendered Protest"

Joanna Gacka (University of Opole, Poland)

"On Some Depictions of Women in the Foundations of Literature"

Closing remarks - 5.00pm - 5.15pm

More:

date: June 1 2017

at the University of Opole, Opole, Poland.

The conference Micro-Cultures of Gender is an opportunity to investigate gender issues on the micro level across different academic disciplines. The main field of our interest is the individual and her or his social environment. There are, at least, two relevant reasons for which it is significant to examine the micro level. According to the first one, 'gender' is regarded as a notion constructed and visible primarily at the micro level. The second cause is opposite to the first one – 'gender' is not easy to be noticed at the micro level.

The Conference language is English.